THE Fiber GALLERY

Gramps Collection Knit Along

For our winter KAL we are featuring the Gramps series of patterns from Kate Oates. This series started with the Gramps Cardigan, an updated take on the classic cabled cardigan that comes in baby through adult sizes. Over time Kate has added to the series with other patterns that use the same gorgeous cables. The series now also includes a fantastic blanket, adorable baby legwarmers, and versatile hat.

We've knit up the cardigan in Berroco Ultra Wool, a new worsted-weight superwash merino wool that we think will become a new classic, go-to yarn. For a bit of luxury we knit up the hat in mYak Baby Yak Medium, an absolutely luscious worsted weight yak yarn. If you haven't felt this yarn you really should – it is amazingly soft and warm.

This KAL offers quite a few options for you to choose from: if you want a smaller project, the hat or baby legwarmers would be perfect. Or, if you are up for a bigger project the blanket or the cardigan are great – and remember we'll be here with help and scheduled support sessions!

The Gramps kickoff party will be Saturday January 27, from 4 to 6 p.m. As usual we'll have door prizes, refreshments and lots of help available. Socialization and help session is Saturday March 3 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The finale party will be May 26 from 4 to 6 p.m. More information on page 3.

HerStory Yarn Club

As many of you know, we love the yarns and colors from Knitted Wit. Last year, dyer Lorajeane started the "HerStory" yarn club honoring amazing American women. This year she's going international and focusing on women in STEM – we just had to sign up. I've seen a preview of the first color, and let's just say it makes me "glow" with happiness.

Each month The Fiber Gallery will receive a limited number of skeins in Victory Sock in that month's colorway and a love letter about the woman that inspired it. This is the perfect way to do a club. You get the excitement of a new fun yarn, but still get to pick and only buy the ones you want (though I think I might want them all!). Be sure to follow us on social media find out when each month's yarn arrives!

Freeform Weaving: We are excited to welcome Anne Choi of Middle Brook Fibeworks to teach a special freeform weaving class. Here's what Anne has to say about the class:

Have you been intrigued by the idea of weaving but were intimidated by the formidable mechanics of the floor loom? Me too! Freeform tapestry weaving is an expressive, process-oriented way to explore traditional handweaving techniques to create a piece that is personal and unique. A tabletop loom enables us to incorporate a wealth of textures such as fluffy roving, long fleece locks, silk ribbon, cotton punis, and handspun art yarn. We'll learn how to set up the loom and plan a design. Using various weave structures and knotting methods, we'll discover how to achieve geometric shapes and contours. Freeform weaving is imaginative, forgiving, and--be forewarned--completely addictive. No experience required. All equipment and materials will be provided, but you are invited to bring any fibers or yarn you would like to include in you work. $85.

- ▶ Sunday, February 25; 12:30 to 3:30
